THE MIAMI COUNTY HONEST-MONEY LEAGUE TAKES ACTION.

City Reports Prominent Rourbons Who Have Come Out for Mckinley and Hobart.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PERU, Ind., Aug. 4.-The Honest Money League of Miami county Democrats has completed its permanent organization by the election of the following officers: President, Hon. Chas. A. Cole; vice presidents, Conrad Starke and John T. Cullen: treasurer, H. W. Shrouse; secretary, Louis B. Fulwiler; executive committee, Mr. Rosenthal, M. P. Deniston, George Rettig, Jacob Theobald, C. H. Brownell. Godlove Conradt and Wm. H. Coucher. The meeting was adopted, unanimously, the following reso-

Resolved, That the late so-called Democratic convention at Chicago, in the utterances incorporated in its platform on the money question has departed from true Democratic principles and traditions, and | that Mr. Brunt will be indorsed. There has endeavored to commit the party to a policy of repudiation and anancial demoralization which must result in the almost universal bankruptcy of debtors, and work an injury to our business interests which it will take a generation to repair, and by its condemnation of the supression of mobs eral authority has made a direct and shameless bid for the support of Anarchists and other lawless classes.

"Resolved, That we believe that the triumph of the principles of the Chicago platform and the election of the candidates neminated upon it would be a national calamity and a national degradation; and we therefore repudiate both platform and cand'dates and declare ourselves absolved from all obligations to support them. Resolved. That we believe that the adoption of another platform and the nomination of other candidates for President and Vice President that shall represent the true principles of Democracy is demanded by the best interests of our party and our "Resolved. That the president and executive committee of this organization be instructed to take the necessary steps to provide for the representation of the honest money Democrats of Miami county at such conventions as may hereafter be called under the authority of the Soun money Democratic national committee.' The club is composed of such prominent men as Hon. Charles A. Cole, who has been chairman of the Democratic central committee several times; Charles H. Brownell president of the Citizens' National Bank and prominent in business circles all over the West; Frank A. Haimbaugh, editor and proprietor of the Miami County Sentinel; Louis B. Fulwiler and R. H. Cole, former proprietor of the Sentinel; James Coyle, proprietor of the Wayne Hotel; M. P. Denniston, trainmaster of L. E. & W. railroad George Rettig, retired merchant; Jacob Theobald, contractor and members of the City Council; Gotleib, Conradt, manufacturer; R. H. The Miami County Sentinel, which has been the organ of the Democracy of this county for more than fifty years, refuses to national ticket the platform adopted at Chicago. In this stand it has been backed up by the substantial element of the Democratic party, the element which has heretofore been the bone and sinew of the party. Last Saturday the county central committee met and passed a vote of censure against the Sen-tinel and declared the Miami County Record the official organ of the local Democracy. The Record is edited by Dr. H. V. Passage and owned by John H. Stephens. It was established as a Populist weekly, but soon after changed its politics, although heretofore it has not been recognized to any extent by the Democratic party.

Sentiments of Colored Voters.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Aug. 4.-The col ored voters of this place have organized a colored McKinley Republican League Club, and are enthusiastically at work. They be uniformed. Their first work will be to meet Hon. J. Frank Hanly at the train, Thursday, and escort him to the opera house in this city, where he will speak to the citizens. The club was organized as a league club by the county manager, Edward E. Neal, but the management of the be in the hands of the colored men alone. They intend to have Guriey of Indianapolis, address them within a few days. At the last meeting Stonewall Higgs was elected president and Wm. H. Brown secretary, and the following resolutions were passed:

"The Republican party has freed four million slaves that were owned by Democrats, and have made the colored people citizens of this country by enacting the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution; therefore "Resolved. That it is the duty of all the colored voters of the North, South, East and West to vote for McKinley and Hobart, as representatives of the party that will now keep us out of a bondage that will be second only to that we were once in, if the Democratic party is allowed to put in force the laws that will decrease the laboring man's chance of giving his children food, clothing and an education. 'We believe in the American system of protection to home industries and a sysetm of finance that will make every dollar worth one hundred cents, and that with protection and sound money the prosperity of our country is assured; therefore, 'Resolved, That we indorse the Republican platform as adopted at St. Louis, the administration of our esteemed fellow-citizen Benjamin Harrison, and condemn the policy of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of .6 to 1, when the commercial value

The Democratic party has done nothing for the colored people, and it has enacted no law, for their benefit, but Southern Democrais have murdered 20,000 colored men, women and children in the last thirty years, and have convicted them without fair trial; at election times our people of the South have been intimidated by shotguns and Winchesters, and their votes have been fraudulently counted for the Democratic party; the Democratic party has enacted unjust laws, compelling the colored people of the South to occupy separate coaches on the railroad trains, thus preventing their rise in the estimation of the people; therefore, "Resolved. That we sympathize with our colored brethren of the South who are deprived of their rights, and who are treated so unmercifully by being mobbed, riddled with bullets, saturated with coal oil and burned to death, and we ask them now, in the peril that is threatening the country from the Democratic platform, if adopted by the people, to stand by the party that has the business judgment, the patriotism and the ability to successfully manage the affairs of this country."

The Outlook in Tipton County.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TIPTON, Ind., Aug. 4.-The political sit uation in Tipton county is assuming nermal condition and the outlook can be seen with more certainty than ten days ago. "middle-of-the-road" Populists are very much demoralized over the mixed-up presi-dential nominations, and unless Watson, their candidate for Vice President, receives fair treatment, they will refuse to remain in the "combine." The Union-Dispatch, the Populist organ, has already served notice on the Democrats that they must be treated fairly and their rights and influence recognized. The Democrats are mortified and chagrined over the Cheadle nomination or Congress, and refuse to be comforted. An open rebellion is threatened, and Mr. Cheadle will find very few admirers among the old line Democrats. Prominent Democrats for McKinley. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Aug. 4.-Wm. Page and H. M. Motz, two life-long and diligent workers for the Democratic party in Blackford county, have declared for sound money and McKinley. William Page is the superintendent of the Standard Oil Company's plant at Montpeller, this county. He has taken an active part in politics of this county. His declaration for sound money will have much weight in Harrison of Harrison township, is president of the ontpeller Land Company, of Montpeller, of Montpelier. Effect of Politics on Money.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW CASTLE, Ind., Aug. 4.-As a practical illustration of the effect home political events have upon American securities in foreign countries the following extract from a letter from Will M. Bunch, of Berlin, Germany, to his parents, in this city, is to the point. He says: "When I first came here I received at the bank four marks and ten pfennings ($1.05) for a dollar. Then in the spring it dwindled down to but four marks ($1), but just after the Republicans declared for a sound money platform. I took a dollar to the bank and received twenty pfennings extra, or $1.10. At another time, just after the Chicago convention, I only got four marks and ten pfennings ($1.05.) So you see the credit of the home government affects her citizens all over the world.

Democratic Opposition to Cheadle. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CAMDEN, Ind., Aug. 4.—The indorsement by the Democratic congressional convention at Frankfort last week of ex-Congressman Joseph B. Cheadle, who was nominated by the Poplists of this district two weeks ago, has added to the spirit of revolt that already existed among the better and more conservative class of Democrats in this county. There are scores of them who say they will not support him. Among them is Dr. C. E. Scholl, an "old line" Democrat, who has canvassed the county many times in the interest of his party Dr. Scholl will make a sound-money speech in opposition to Cheadle, Bryan and the Chicago platform at this place on Friday night. Dr. Scholl will probably support the nominae of the approaching Democratic the county. Political Notes.

The largest Republican meeting ever held in Dillsborough, Jefferson county, was addressed on Monday night by Hon. Marcus R. Sulzer, candidate for Congress. J. M. Barlow, of Hendricks county, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the lower branch of the Legislature, lives at Plainfield, and not at Danville, as stated. Thomas Mount, of Finley township, Scott county, who has always been a Democrat and never voted anything but a straight Democratic State and national ticket, has

A Difference with a Distinction. Brooklyn Eagle (Dem.)

In the essence the difference between Bryan's candidacy and that of McKinley may be said to be the difference between those who are trying to overthrow the existing conditions of government and those who are trying to preserve them. Bryan stands for all the discontented and visionary elements that hope to help themselves by raiding the treasury, and the real spirit of the men who are supporting him should not be misunderstood. Tillman was not far out of the way when he declared in the Chicago convention that the fight for free silver was a sectional fight, although it is true the convention did not indorse his utterance. The sectionalism of the thing is in the effort of the West to repudiate its obligations to the East, and in the effort of the South to join hands with the West in retaliation of a grievance that was believed to be settled some years Logically, Watson is a more fitting fg mate for Bryan than Sewall is. But Sewall does right in not consenting to spoiled of whatever notoriety his nomination carries with it.

SECURITIES FOR MONEY WHICH CADWALLADER HANDLED.

Miners in the Indiana Coal Region Object to Armed Guards on the Highways.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WINCHESTER, Ind., Aug. 4 .- Much has been said through the Journal and the local papers about the suits against ex-Senator Nathan Cadwallader, of Union epen the Republican campaign in this city City, growing out of the failure of the Citizens' Bank, of that place, of which Mr. Cadwallader was president. The Journal's correspondent at Union City announces that a pending suit had been dismissed, and intimates that the receiver has abandoned the prosecution of Mr. Cadwallader. The records of the court here show that one suit against Mr. Cadwallader was dismissed some days ago, but that another suit in the name of the receiver was immediately filed, in which demand is made for $50,000. Other suits were brought at the same time to recover notes which Mr. Cadwallader, as president known to be insolvent. Another suit on Mr. Cadwallader's bond was to-day filed in the Circuit Court, in which demand is made for $10,000. The complaint in this case shows that the bank was in a rotten condition, and had been for several years. It shows that Mr. Cadwallader had been a member of four different firms, all which are insolvent, and each of which is, and has been, for years, heavily indebted to the bank, and that the total exceeded $10,000. It shows that Mr. Cadwallader, at different times, sold his own property to insolvent persons, taking unsecured notes, and transferred these to the bank and got the money, and the bank still holds these worthless notes, amounting to near $5,000. It shows that Mr. Cadwallader and members of his family, including two sons-inlaw, have received no less than $30,000 of the bank's money, for which there is no valid security. It shows that Mr. Cadwallader took the money of the bank to pay his individual indebtedness and carried the notes thus discharged as bills of the bank. It shows that $50,000 of the funds of the bank were loaned to insolvent persons, for township. H. M. Motz, the other Democrat | which inadequate security was taken, consisting of second mortgages and worthless chattels. Those in position to know now and is one of the most prominent citizens | think that the depositors will not receive over 25 to 30 per cent, of their deposits. CRITICISES PRESIDENT KNIGHT.

While speaking about the mining trouble, Mills said that he had been misrepresented and also treated unfairly by newspaper correspondents and miners and even President Knight, of the Mine Workers' Union, had stepped beyond the bounds of decency in saying he was responsible for the Hymera burn-out.

"Why such false accusations should be made," he said, "I am at a loss to know, as I was not a candidate for re-election, and the same law which governed my action, was the one which applied to other sheriffs throughout the State, and if my course was not in accordance with law. there is a recourse for all who think dif-

FARMERS ARE LOSERS. Gathering Corn from Skiffs, While Shocks of Wheat Float Away.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. AURORA, Ind., Aug. 4 .- Gathering corn from skiffs is a sight that one does not often see, but it has become a familiar one to the people of (his vicinity during the last three weeks. The unexpected and almost unprecedented summer rise in the Ohio river will cause the local farmers a great loss. Hundreds of acres of river bottom land has been overflowed and in many places even the tassels of the growing corn could not be seen. All of the lower bottoms have been overflowed and the corn crop will be an entire loss. Many farmers secured boats and gathered much of the corn hat was far enough advanced to be used for roasting ears and brought it to town and sold it for a cent a dozen or gave it to poor people. It is estimated that 800 acres of corn immediately surrounding this city and Lawrenceburg have been flooded,

This ground would have yielded 75 bushels to the acre. Besides this, there was much standing in shocks in the bottom fields This has all been washed away. Whole stacks of wheat floating down the river do not present an unusual sight. The loss will fall heavily on some of the smaller farmers and many of them will be broken up. The river has receded a couple of feet since Sunday, when it stood at forty-two feet, but it is expected to rise again tomorrow. None of the towns have suffered any losses as yet, but the river is running

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CARMEL, Ind., Aug. 4.-What the Northwest Indiana Conference is to the Methodist Church is the Ministerial Association of the Western Yearly Meeting to the Friends' Church. There is this diffarence, however: No ministerial appointments are made, no official business is transacted and no final action is taken in the matter of church politics, yet it may be said that at these sessions the policy of ministers are, in effect, made and unmade. These sessions are a comparatively new departure in the church and mark that era of progress upon which it has, within the last few years, entered.

The fourth session of the association now being held here, and all the ministers of the Friends' Church from this and adjoining States are in attendance. The folowing are the officers: President, Amos Sanders; first vice president, T. C. Brown second vice president. Matilda Cox: secre tary, Lizzie A. Murphy; treasurer, Clark Brown; chairman of committee on arrangements, Amy Cooper; chairman of ommittee on singing, Howard Brown. The session commenced this evening and will continue three days. This evening's session was for the public. It consisted of levotional exercises and welcome by Mary Miars, appointment of committees and sermon by A. F. Mitchell. The most of the programme was, however, more particularly for the ministers, and consisted of discussions of how they shall preach to their congregations on subjects which are deemed of vital importance to the church. Catholic Benevolent Legion.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ELWOOD, Ind., Aug. 4 .- The seventh annual convention of the Indiana Catholic Benevolent Legion convened here to-day for a two days' session. About 500 delegates are in attendance besides a number of visitors. The Elwood Chapter was organized in 1892, and already has nearly 100 members. Joseph P. Finan, chairman of the executive ommittee, had control of the work of preparing for the convention and every arrangement was made for the entertainment of the visitors. Among the Catholic dig nitaries of note who are present are: Fa-thers Mulcahy, of Anderson; Guethoff, of Crown Point; B. Kroeger, of Logansport; T. J. Kroeger, of Tipton; J. Might Have Prevented the Terrible Wreck at Atlantic City and Saved Forty-Four Lives.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 4.-The official inquiry by Coroner McLaughlin to determine the responsibility for the collision between the Reading and Pennsylvania railroads was resumed this morning. presence on the witness stand of operator Hawser, who displayed the signals for the crossing tower, and fireman Hallihan, who was on the engine that ploughed through the excursion train, made the examination the most interesting of the series. When Hawser took the stand he declared emphatically that he had taken no intoxicating liquors on the day of the accident. Witness said he had just gone on duty when the West Jersey indicator rang. notifying the approach of a north-bound train. Previous to that he had looked at the signals and all were at danger. He was sure of this. He saw that the West Jersey was a little late and then gave them the right of way. He saw the board come down. Then he pulled the distant semaphore. The West Jersey kept coming. Then he discovered the Reading rounding the curve. He expected the Reading to slow up to let the West Jersey over. He saw the steam of the West Jersey go down as is usual when it is turned off. The engineer of the Reading gave two blasts of his whistle, but both trains kept on and the collision occurred at 6:48.

Fireman Hallihan stated that he was in the tender during the approach to the signal at the tower and did not see the signal until the second whistle was blown. The distant one then indicated caution and the home signal stop. He was on the step of the engine when the crash came. The engineer put on the air brakes and did everything to stop the train. The train was going forty-five to fifty miles an hour at the distant board. No conversation passed between him and Engineer Farr just previous to the collision

At the afternoon session conductor Pink-

Jersey excursion train, and Arthur Stiles a resident of Atlantic City, who was riding on his wheel and saw the collision. testified. Nearly all these witnesses agreed that engineer Edward Farr, of the Reading train, who was found dead with his hand on the throttle had done everything in his power to stop his train when he saw that a collision was imminent, and everyone of them, except Greiner, stated, or inferred that the West Jersey train could either have been stopped after engineer Greiner saw the Reading thundering along towards him, or handled so that only the two engines would have come together. This would have meant the death of the men in the two cabs, very likely, but it would have saved the passenger coaches. Conductor Pinkerton, of the Reading train, said this in so many words. He also gave the impression that the signals had not been properly worked. According to his interpretation of engineer Farr's whistle, a certain whistle had been given the Reading train and then suddenly changed to another. The first must have been the right-of-way signal and the second the danger. Farr whistled to know which was right, but it was too late to stop the train. Engineer Greiner declared that he was guided only by signals, re-He got the signal of right of way and he continued on, but he had known of instances when the signals had been changed

WRECK ON THE READING. Engineer and Conductor Killed and Fireman Dying. SHAMOKIN, Pa., Aug. 4.-Two men were killed and another tatally injured in a freight wreck on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, six miles west of Shamokin to-day. The wreckage took fire from the dismantled locomotive and the knowledge that on the siding where the accident eccurred was a carload of gunpowder prevented any attempt at rescue until the explosion had occurred. It was thus that the body of engineer Michael Smock was burned within full view of the workmen. It was pinned beneath the engine and burning debris. The victims are: Michael Smock, engineer, of Tamaqua, Alexander Smith, conductor, of Tamaqua, both dead, and Jack Griebach, fireman, of Tamaqua hadly scalded, will die. The wrecked train was running about forty miles an hour. when it ran into a freight car door that had fallen across the track from a passing train. The engine jumped the track and twelve cars were piled within a space of fifty feet.

Knickerhoeker State Organization Will Now Pitch in and Work for McKinley and Hobart.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 .- F. S. Gibbs, member of the Republican campaign committee for this State, had a conference to-day with Chairman Hanna. At its conclusion Mr. Gibbs said: "I can say that everything has been arranged satisfactorily between the State organization and the national committee. I have never known a presidential campaign in which the managers of the New York State Republican committee and the national committee were in such hearty accord."

The officers of the newly organized Union veterans' political movement met at the home of General Daniel E. Sickles to-night to consider their address to the public, but as it was not completed it was decided to adjourn until Thursday, when the address may be given out. It is said that Colonel William Lamb, of Virginia, has wen in his contest for con-trol of the campaign of his home State. He is chairman of the State committee and he wished to be in control, but a new committee was to be named in October. Colonel Lamb, it is said, is to continue as chairman, but three men are to be named in addition to five previously decided on for the evecutive committee. The names of these three were not given and it was said that they will be named after Colonel Lamb returns home. Judge Brady, of Petersburg, who has opposed Colonel Lamb, was also at the conference to-day with Chairman Hanna and others.

PINGREE IN THE LEAD. He May Sweep the Michigan Convention To-Day.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 4 .- With the mercury marking 90 degrees in the shade over six hundred Michigan Republicans have sweltered in the hotel corridors to-day perfecting plans for their State convention, which is to open at noon to-moreral and State Treasurer. For Governor, the fight is between Col. A. T. P.bs, of Saginaw, and Mayor Hazen S. Pingres, of Detroit, with James O'Donnell, of . a. Congressman Altken, of Fint; Wheeler, of Manistee, and W. F. Conant. of Monroe, trailing in the race. It is con ceded that Bliss and Pingree lead the others at present and until to-night their strength was quite evenly balanced. Since the arrival of the Pingree delegation from Detroit this afternoon, the Mayor is said to have made some serious breaks in the Bliss lines, but it is not claimed that he has gained enough to secure the prize the first ballot. In the event of a dead-lock between Bliss and Pingree, O'Donnell's chances are good. The principal candidates for Auditor-general are Roscoe Dix, of Benton Harber, and O. C. Tompkins, of Lansing. Victor M. Gore, of Bei-

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 4.-The Republican State convention meets in this city to-morrow, and the warmest canvass for the governorship witnessed in Wisconsin in many years ended to-night. The candidates are six in number-ex-Congressman R. M. Lafollette, of Dane county; Maj. Edward Scofield, of Oconto: Lieutenant Governor Emil Baensch, of Manitowoe county; Iram B. Bradford, of Eau Claire county, and Eugene S. Elliott and E. Estabrook, both of Milwaukee. It has been a fight with several corners. The several candidates to-night have the following delegates pledged: Lafollette, 271; Schofield, 273; Baensch, 31; Bradford, 74; Elliott, 58; Estabrook, 10; contested, 7. With Scofield or Lafollette nominated the present State officers, except Governor Upham, who declines a second term, will be renominated. Conferences are being held with a view to fusion of Populists and Republicans on the electoral tieket, but nothing definite has been agreed on.

History Repeating Itself. Hon, George W. Julian, in North American Of the Free-soil leaders of national repute in 1848 and 1852, one only survives. The names of these men, so familiar to the public in their generation, are new rarely mentioned, but what they wrought endures. The cuestion which so stirred their blood and kindled the wrath of their opponents has been lifted out of the taugle and jargon of debate into the clear light of accom plashed facts. This is their sufficient reward, and will be their enduring renown The lesson of their struggle and triumph is the inestimable va'ue of political courage principle and bided their time. If they had taken counsel of their fears and faltesed in the face of a powerful and intolerant op-position, a divided Union or a slave empire would have been the result. The same political courage is needed in dealing with the foreign and domestic policy of the govern-ment to-day, while the lack of it has brought upon the country its prolonged financial troubles and made the people afraid of their rulers. History is repeating itself. The present state of our politics recalls the tactics of 1852. Nothing is more way the wind blows and trimming its sails accordingly, instead of bravely appealing to fundamental principles as its never-fall-

It is no answer to say, "The convention was captured by the Popullsts." How came the Populists to capture the convention? If the Populists captured the convention they must have captured the Democrats themselves by converting them to Populistic doctrines. Indeed, all the facts of the case show that this is really what occurred. The Democratic convention was not captured by Populists hitherto outside of the party, but the Democratic voters who, in the South and West, and to no small extent in the East, have become converted to the Pepulist doctrines. Who, then, is responsible for this change in the convictions and conduct of the great mass of the Democratic voters? Where did they get their education in these Socialistic theo-

Vanderbilt's Services to the Public. Harper's Weekly

A great deal has been said about Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt since he has been ill. and the qualities that have won him his place in the community have been duly welt upon. Everybody knows that he is good man, whose conscience works during all his waking hours, and who tries to do his whole duty to his fellow-men. Mr. Vanderbilt has done many things that are very useful. For one thing, he has lived an upright and honorable life in public and ters to-night. Two hundred business men in private, and that, in a man of his conwere present, and all were enthusiastic spicuous position, has been a public service over the project to organize an army of of no small importance. Then he has given away a great deal of money, and given it wisely; has built churches and college halls, endowed charitable and religious institutions, and has doubtless did a vast deal for individuals, and in ways that are not known. He has been a great builder, too, on his own account, and his great houses in New York and Newport are beautiful examples of architecture, which please the eye and educate the taste. Yet, after all, the labor that has most engrossed his time and strength has been what is vulgarly called "making money"that is, taking care of the interests which he and his family control, keeping them in such condition that they are profitable, and investing their surplus returns. It seems possible, and the thought is worth considering, that this service, which will strike most people as a species of selfish labor, is, after all, the most important that he has rendered, and that which has benefited the most people. A gift is appreciated bestatesman are appreciated sometimes bebecause the" are obviously in the interest of the public. But the labors of men who manage great quasi-public corporations, in which thousands of shareholders besides themselves are interested, and on which thousands of workmen depend, are not always rated at their true value as public services. It is true that they are well paid for, but it is also true that they are immensely valuable, and oftentimes deserv-
